

Contributors

Taylor Nicole Boucher is in the final year of the Bachelor of Arts (Honours) program in the Department of English.

Brennan Carlson has recently graduated from The University of Winnipeg with a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Political Science. He is currently studying a Master of Arts in Political Studies at the University of Manitoba. After completion of his graduate studies, he intends to pursue a professional career in the field of law.

Kyle Friesen is a recent Bachelor of Arts (Honours) graduate in Political Science at The University of Winnipeg. He plans to continue his studies by pursuing a Master's in Global Politics / International Relations.

Callum Goulet-Kilgour is a fourth-year student completing a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Economics and a Bachelor of Music in Piano Performance.

Ciarra O'Reggio has completed their final year at The University of Winnipeg. They are mixed race with Afro-Caribbean and European ancestry, and they identify as queer and non-binary. They are passionate about fiction writing and they plan to continue exploring themes of binary formation in their novels (which they hope to one day publish).

Violet Tsirblou is a fourth-year Sociology major who is interested in the ways that technology influences human interconnection.

